Back-to-back wins . . . Tim Bentley signs an autograph after retaining his Nepean Triathlon crown

Bentley on a Nepean cloud nine

By AMANDA LULHAM and AAP

VICTORIAN Tim Bentley carved more than three minutes off the 2WS Nepean triathlon record yesterday on his way to becoming the first athlete to win the punishing event back-to-back.

Up against some of the best triathletes in the country, Bentley surged in the final run leg to snatch the title from Canadian champion Frank Clarke and Lismore's Craig Underhill.

Bentley completed the course, which involved a 1km swim, 40km cycle and 12km run, in 1hr44min48sec to knock 3min12sec off his own record.

"The run is usually where I win the races," said Bentley who lines up in the 10km Zatopek in Melbourne on December 16.

"It's good for running people down and I get a good dose of adrenaline to kick on when I pass somebody."

"When I had the lead with two kilometres left I was on cloud nine."

Talented female Emma Carney made it a Victorian double when she won the women's division from in-form Queenslanders Jackie Hallam and Jackie Gallagher.

The Nepean triathlon doubled as the second selection trial for the new Tooheys Blue series which begins in January.

Ten spots are still up for grabs in the series which will boast a field of 15 contracted athletes, including world cup champion Brad Bevan.

Going into this weekend's final selection event at Port Stephens, Queenslanders Troy Fidler and Andrew Noble lead the rankings from Sydney's Greg Bennett, the Gold Coast's Eamon Nunn, Underhill and Manly's David Williams.

Nunn and Williams finished first and second in the first selection race at Noosa Heads, but yesterday could only manage 12th and 16th respectively.

TEAMS TO MAKE A RETURN

by BRAD EARL

AS the 2WS Nepean Triathlon hits unprecedented heights at the professional level, the race will go back to basics by reintroducing the once-popular teams section next year.

"What it used to do was bring people into the sport," race director Warwick Brennan said after last weekend's race, which attracted its biggest and best pro field and saw both male and female records shattered.

The teams event, in which different people perform the three legs of the triathlon, was squeezed out by the increasing number of individual entries about five years ago.

While there were an estimated 400 teams at its peak, next year's event will be limited to 200 teams, which will start in one wave after the individual competitors.

In Sunday's race, Victorian Tim Bentley became the first person to win successive Nepean Triathlons, finishing in a record time of 1hr 44min 47sec.

Canadian Frank Clarke was second and Lismore's Craig Underhill third.

TRIATHLON

Bentley's time was more than three minutes off the previous best for the event set by Greg Welch a few years ago — and 13 male competitors actually went under the record.

Brennan attributed that to the perfect conditions, being cool and with no wind to slow competitors on the bike leg. The professional interest in the race was due to it being a qualifying event for the upcoming Tooheys Blue Triathlon series.

In the women's category, Emma Carney made it a Victorian double by beating Australian marathon representative Jackie Hallam, of Byron Bay, and Jackie Gallagher, of the Gold Coast. Carney set a mark of 1hr 56min 30sec, two minutes under the record.

Of the 400 local competitors, Nick Sullivan, of Glenbrook, took out the first local male prize ahead of veteran Tim McKay, of Werrington Downs.

Therese Small, of Valley Heights, was the first local female, beating Jane Cernanec, of Werrington.

Both were also placed in their age categories: Small third in 35-39 and Cernanec second in 20-24.

Local males placed in age categories were: McKay, first in 35-39; Bob Knezevic, of Emu Plains, third in 40-44; Garth Scott, of Blaxland, third in 45-49.

Triathlon records smashed

By DUNCAN LAY

RECORDS tumbled at the 2WS Nepean Triathlon last Sunday, in conditions described as "perfect" by organiser Warwick Brennan.

The cool, dry conditions with no wind were ideal for the athletes and 13 men smashed World Champion Greg Welch's old record of one hour 47 minutes, while the ladies winner also set a new record.

First man home was Victorian Tim Bentley, the first man to win two Nepean Triathlons in a row, in a time of 1hr 43mins 30secs.

"It was one of the closest races in history, Bentley only took the lead about 6km into the 12km run and the two placegetters were within a minute of him," Brennan said.

Canadian Frank Clarke was second, Lismore's Craig Underhill third.

First home won $1700, second $1200 and third $1000, with prize money all the way to 10th.

Prize money was equal for both men and women, although there were more than 60 men and only 13 women.

In the ladies race Emma Carney, from Victoria, was first home in 1hr 56 mins, with Byron Bay's Jackie Hallam second and the Gold Coast's Jackie Gallagher, who finished second last year, came third.

In the race for first local home, there was an unexpected winner in Nick Sullivan, 18, of Glenbrook.

"He'd been training up on the Gold Coast with Spot Anderson, so he was something of an unknown quantity," Brennan said.

"But he had obviously done well, home in 1hr 53mins."

Second local home was Tim McKay, home in 1hr 56 mins.

In the ladies, Therese Small of Valley Heights was first home and Jane Cerrecc was second.

"It was a big day, more than 1000 competitors had all brought their own cheer squads along with them, 2WS was doing live crosses and Channel 10 was down there too," Brennan said.

"But I think both myself and Ched Towns, the co-organiser, will take a bit of a rest before thinking about next year's event."

One change to the format may be re-introducing a teams event.

"I think we'll try that next year again, because it's a good way for runners, swimmers or riders to get introduced into the sport," he said.
