Triathlete flies home to victory

By DANIEL
DE NARDI

PENRITH has another triathlon star in 19-year-old Leigh Chapman, who won the 18th annual Nepean Triathlon on Sunday.

It was a case of good luck-bad luck for the Chapman family, after Leigh's older brother Trent sustained a leg injury with 2km to go to the finish line, forcing him down to a walk.

Trent commanded a huge lead over the 700-strong field after the 1km swim and 30km cycle legs and was looking good in the 10km run final section before the injury.

The performance was even more outstanding, given that both brothers had stepped off a plane on Saturday after a 26-hour flight from the Middle East, where Trent won the prestigious Dubai International Triathlon with Leigh finishing second.

Nick Saunders finished second in the Nepean race, with Chris Diemtroff third.

A surprise winner in the ladies section was Australian steeplechaser Melissa Vanderwater, ahead of Maureen Cummings.

Saturday afternoon set the stage for a great weekend with the Nepean Enticer mini-triathlon attracting 200 entrants.

The scene was stolen by 10-year-old Beverley Dobson who, competing in her first triathlon with her father, had a bike puncture.

She managed to complete the race, giving high-fives as crossed the finishing line to the cheers of the crowd.

Federal MP for Lindsay Jackie Kelly presented the awards to the winners on Sunday and hinted she would give triathlons another attempt once she has overcome her next hurdle, giving birth.

Race organisers Warwick Brennan and Judy Towns thanked all who assisted over the weekend, including Linda Muller from the RTA, Sergeant John Milton from Penrith police and Craig Ross from Penrith Council.
